

It was truly an awe and wonder moment on Wednesday when we welcomed all pupils back into the assembly hall for singing. It was an amazing moment to hear the pupils' fabulous voices and to see just how happy they were to be back together. This was echoed again today when we were able to have a collective celebration assembly for the first time in 18 months. It means so much to the team here to be able to celebrate each pupil's successes and share these as a community. I look forward to being able to welcome everyone back into school very soon. Have a great weekend. everyone!
