

As we edge ever closer to the Christmas holidays, school is continuing to be as busy as ever. We've had some wonderful events take place this past week in school. Tuesday saw our Christmas Fayre in the hall. It was incredible to see such a wonderful turnout from parents and other family members, supporting the school in raising just under £600. We really do appreciate your attendance and support at these events. Likewise on Thursday morning, we had over 50 parents/carers/family members turn up to see the incredible EYFS Nativity. The children and staff team in Early Years- I'm sure you'll agree- did a truly magnificent job. Finally, even with all of these festive events taking place, the pupils throughout school have been continuing with their end of term assessments. I've visited many classrooms and have been beyond impressed with the level of maturity and effort I have seen from every single pupil. I know this is echoed by staff as well who have regularly been feeding back to me how well the children have been doing and just how proud they are of them. A huge well done and thank you to everyone for such an incredible week at BPA.

Parent notices

Leeds City Council wants to make sure that there are enough childcare places available for parents and carers of young children, including working parents and parents who are studying/training for employment. They are asking parents and carers of children aged 0-11 about their current or future childcare needs and their experience of using childcare in Leeds.

Please use this link for the survey.
